Auckland 1026, New Zealand

SAS Sport was founded in 1993 in Hunua, a lovely rural area in the south of Auckland. The company is now a top leader in New Zealand's sportswear industry.

We produce custom-made teamwear for all sports in New Zealand. We have an established track record of success with our customers, many of whom come back time after time. We work closely together to create designs based on their needs, so they can proudly represent themselves through their teamwear.

From the start of SAS, we set out on a journey with one simple mission: to ensure that our customers could always rely on us. We've been working hard ever since to make good on that promise. Over the years, we've faced some tough challenges, but we've always come through for our customers. In fact, they're the reason why we continue to grow and thrive. We're proud to say "WE'VE GOT YOUR BACK" because it's not just a slogan; it's a commitment that we make to each and everyone of our customers.

We are dedicated to providing the best customer service possible, with a strong focus on quality. This is what we strive towards, and it's an honour that our customers only want what our team can provide!

NCAA Michigan St Spartans

A male hockey player is captured in a dynamic pose on a blue artificial turf field. He is wearing a bright orange long-sleeved jersey and matching shorts, both featuring a small black logo on the chest and thigh. He is also wearing black socks and white sneakers. He is leaning forward, holding a black hockey stick with both hands, and a white puck is positioned at the blade of the stick on the ground. The background shows a clear blue sky with scattered white clouds, several tall stadium light poles, and a distant fence line. The overall scene is bright and energetic.

Final Frontier Old Style

A male athlete with dark curly hair is captured in a dynamic pose, running across a green grass field. He is wearing a black sleeveless jersey with orange and black vertical stripes, black shorts, black socks with white stripes, and bright blue sneakers. He is holding a colorful, multi-colored rugby ball with both hands, looking intently towards the right. The background features a black chain-link fence, trees, and a clear blue sky with scattered white clouds.

SUBLIMATION

Sublimation refers to the process where a substance transitions from solid to gas without becoming liquid. In terms of clothing, this process is used to transfer a digital image onto a fabric. To achieve a design through this method, sublimation dyes are applied to a printing paper and then transferred to the fabric with the help of a heat press.

The heat of the press opens up the fibers of the clothing and the dyes are absorbed. The result is a permanent image that will not scratch or fade. Through sublimation you will not only get clothing that is soft and light weight but the choice to use any colour at no added cost. Although a durable alternative to other design methods, it is important to note that sublimation can only be used on polyester.

APPLIQUE and EMBROIDERY

A great alternative for sportswear such as jackets and hoodies are applique and embroidery. There are two types of appliques- Felt and twill. With felt applique, layered swatches of laser cut felt are applied on to the fabric to create an image. The method of applying twill applique is the same. The only difference is twill is a much more durable material that sticks easier to fabric and is shiny for a more high quality look and feel. Applique lasts longer than screen printing but is better used for applying logos with large numbers or letters on to clothing.

Embroidery has a lot more finesse and generally looks a lot cleaner and stylish. The advantage of embroidery is that you can apply more intricate designs as it involves directly sewing the selected design on to the fabric. This technique, though beautiful and long lasting, is much more time consuming and costly. The maximum size we have available for both techniques is 8 inches in height and 6.5 inches in width and a total of six colours can be used.
